beautiful...Von Roni SenpinarReview may contain some spoilers.Ok, where to start?Starting this book I didn't know what to expect. I mean one of my all time favorite authors wrote it and I was sure it would be amazing.And from page one I was hooked. I loved the feeling, the characters, the storyline, and the writing style.The story follows 18 year old Connor, who is a single father to a beautiful little girl. He struggles for him and his daughter and also has to take care of his mother in some ways. While in school he meets Gianna and while he doesn't want a relationship because he has to take care of his daughter and he has enough stress in his life, the two eventually can't deny their spark and start a relationship. I don't want to give away too much because it'll spoil the story for you. So I'm just gonna go ahead and tell a little bit about the characters. I loved Connor right from the beginning. The story is written from his point of view and you actually feel what he is going through and you just wanna hug him and tell him that everything's gonna be alright (lol, at least I had that feeling while reading). I love how he takes care of his daughter and how much he adores her. For him his daughter means everything and her happiness comes before his. I loved that about him. Even though he had to grow up fast and even though he sometimes regrets that he wasn't "smarter" about some things he did the best he could do. I didn't know what to think about Gianna at first. At the beginning she was this typical spoiled rich kid. The one who would say things like: "You can't sit with us.". But once she started to hang out with Connor she changed or rather her real self came out. I loved that she was selfless and cared about Makayla deeply. This book isn't so much about romance though. It's about finding yourself and family and new beginnings. This one was definitely a five star read for me.
