thin line of peace: Vampire, Werewolf and Human. Fleur is a vampire with a reputation for being too impulsive and not obeying the law - that is, not to make further Vampires. Dain is a human and part of a police force. Those people do not hang around with 'lesser' beings like fangs.. But when Fleur survives an attack on the Vampire leaders and is suddenly in a position of power, she turns to Dain for liason with the humans. And Dain is enchanted with this small, strong woman. Together they set out to battle the forces that try to bring down the shaky peace. A great start of the series! It is easy to see the world created here, with the posh vampires in their lofty skyscrapers, the werewolfs in the underground and the humans in between, acting as if all other have to bow to them. The human leaders are very human in their way to gain any advantage, no matter the cost or method. The world is vivid, strong, lovable characters and a promising ground for the follow-ups. Highly addictive.

KurzbeschreibungCrimson City kicks off a paranormal romance series featuring a city full of vampires, humans, werewolves, demons and mechs. In this world of hot heroes and bad-ass heroines, desire meets danger when human cop Dain tangles with gorgeous vampire Fleur. With paranormal romance, unique world-building, a big ensemble cast and a dynamite love story, Crimson City's got it all.A DANGEROUS PAIRIm not what you think, Dain said. Im not a good man.You wouldnt be here if you were, Fleur answered, her voice thick with emotion. Neither would I. Her eyes shone an intense blue that seemed to penetrate his soul. Dain imagined he saw love in their depth, but he didnt dare ask. Not yet. Because he couldnt be sure of what was to come. And because he had enough emotion for both of them tonight.Im warning you, he said, stalking her and pulling the jeweled combs from her hair. He crowded up to her. Im warning you.No more warnings, she barely had time to say. He pushed her down on the bed.This is Book 1 in the Crimson City series.
