this date. he waits home the whole night, alone with his fears and feelings. he knows that she betrays him with her former lover. his mind thinks mostly of the possibility losing her but also about divorce etc. when she comes home he makes love to her, even knowing that the other man's seed is still in her. the story is told really amazingly. How come, that in real life, one thinks that mostly the women get betrayed, but in those erotic stories it is almost ever the man who is betrayed, even humiliated and lied to? although in this story the husband is thankful that his wife came back to him his thoughts about her betrayal will never leave his mind. the fear that she will do it again and then maybe leave him will stay in his mind forever. amazing writer, amazing story!

Kurzbeschreibung Joshua has been happily married to Elena for eleven years. Together, they have two wonderful children, a beautiful home and a life moving easily through time. He has no past to worry about, accepts she does, and understands from time to time old friends may come to visit. Perhaps to catch up on the new over a friendly lunch, maybe for a cup of coffee to reminisce over the old. Man or woman, never mattered, all proper and innocent. Till one day she tells him she received a call from Nicholas, asking her to dinner and Joshua's perfect life is thrown into darkness.
