This author tells interesting stories, managed to interweeve the federation and the Earth storylines very well. I like the way he gives us likeable people to get attached to, thus including us in the story by experiencing it along with them. I always liked computer geeks, so

Gregs daughter Katie is one of my favourites. Its quite entertaining to let such people loose on advanced tech. And yes, there always have been gifted people like this, given the right support they would have brought about quantum leaps for humanity. I really hope R.L.W. will give her the opportunity to do so. That would be really interesting. Just imagine what Tesla would have come up with given a visit to Ceres. This book came up with the idea of highjacking a new space ship by some bad guys, proving that Earth people are not all too dumb to progress the new technologies. Of course we do not want the bad guys to do so and they get... But read for yourself and be amazed. The space fights are written well but do not dominate the story, which I find pleasing since these stories here are the stories of people and not primarily about a space war. So, read and enjoy. I hope the next book is here soon.0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Moon Wreck: Fleet academyVon Ralph MillerI first read the slaver wars alien contact and after that the moon wreck series. The first two moon series books were a little bit short but fleet academy was back to a normal volume size. The story is very interesting especially the different threads. I read a lot of science-fiction and this story line is definitely one of the good one.

KurzbeschreibungThe starship New Horizon is Earth's first attempt at an FTL capable spaceship. But others don't want the mission to succeed. The mission goes suddenly and horribly wrong with the possibility of inadvertently leading the Hocklyns to Earth decades in advance of their estimated arrival time. Can the cadets on the New Horizon stop the deadly plot before it's too late? The Federation survivors on Ceres have built a new warship. Its the most powerful ship they have ever built. Its mission is simple. Return to the old Federation worlds, search for survivors, and find out how far the Hocklyn Slave Empire has spread. The whole key to their mission is secrecy, but the disastrous events on the New Horizon may jeopardize everything.KurzbeschreibungThe starship New Horizon is Earth's first attempt at an FTL capable spaceship. I attended college at SWOSU in Weatherford Oklahoma, majoring in Math with minors in Creative Writing and History. My hobbies include watching soccer, reading, camping, and of course writing. I coached youth soccer for twelve years before moving on and becoming a high school soccer coach for thirteen more. I also enjoy playing with my four grandchildren. I also have a very vivid imagination, which sometimes worries my friends. They never know what I am going to say or what I am going to do. I am an avid reader and have a science fiction / fantasy collection of over two thousand paperbacks. I want future generations to know the experiance of reading a good book, as I have over the last forty years.
