Moonspun Magic.....a great story! Von nvvb@mindspring.com This is the last book in the Magic Trilogy. Coulter writes of a sea captian, Rafael Castairs (introduced in "Calypso Magic"), and his journey to London. On the way, he saves Victoria Abermarle, none other than his hated twin's ward. Of course, a romance bloom between the two. Rafael is loving and gentle, although very stubborn, and of course, worms his way into Victoria's heart. Just as Victoria, with her innocence and beauty, worms right into his heart. Sit back and enjoy the love story as it grows between the two. The fight scenes are halirious, the sex scenes steamy, and the mystery and dealings of Damein, Rafael's twin, are twisted. I find this one a highly enjoyable story written by Coulter, which allows us to revisit all the characters from the first two books, however briefly. 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. How About Other Books? Von Ein Kunde Fist of all, this book was great, I don't have anything against it. The only thing I hate is how Rafael repeatly doubts Victoria. But like my title suggests, I'm curious about her other books. I read all the reviews of her other books and most people like them. There are also people who don't. Before I read them (the reviews), I was planning to go buy more of her books. Now I'm not so sure, her books sound like they sure have a lot of cruelty and rape in them! 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. My all-time favorite novel from Ms. Coulter !!!!! Von Elera Tempest I've read (almost) all of her books, and this fun-packed love-story is the best ever penned. The incomparably funny sparring between Victoria and Damien, and the steam-filled love scenes are so invigorating that U have to read it again and again just for the heck of it. Irresistible !!! =P
