Excellent atmosphereVon Kindle JunkieI avoid modern sequels to classics but this is an excellent and original "prequel" which does not take anything away from Austen's Persuasion. The dialog which so readily brings out the wit of the main characters, the simple loving families described, and the hesitancy of both Sophy and Conrad to express their feelings are so reminiscent of Jane Austen's style. A joy to read.2 von 2 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Wunderbar nachempfunden! Von CustomerMy dear Sophy von Kimberly Truesdale ist eine sehr schne "Nebenerzhlung" des Jane Austen Romans Verführung

KurzbeschreibungSophy Wentworth loves her life in sleepy Milverton...Twenty-three year old Sophia Wentworth lives a quiet life in the small country town of Milverton. Here she helps her Papa, the town doctor, visits with her friends, and attempts usually unsuccessfully to keep her younger brothers Edward and Frederick out of trouble. When the opportunity to marry the handsome and attentive young curate who's just moved into the next town presents itself, Sophy is tempted by a life of pleasant repetitions and obligations, a life that will keep her at the center of the town and the community she loves so much.Until a stranger arrives...Captain Conrad Croft grew up in Milverton, where his father is the rector. He has spent the past fourteen years traveling the world with the British Navy. On a surprise visit home, Conrad meets Sophia who was just eight years old when he left. He becomes intrigued by this woman, the silent core of strength for the entire town. When his attempts to draw her out succeed, Conrad discovers an intelligent, witty, strong woman who might just be his perfect match. He only has to convince her of it before he sails away again.Fifteen years before the events of Jane Austen's Persuasion, this is the story of how the Admiral and Mrs. Croft first meet.KurzbeschreibungSophy Wentworth loves her life in sleepy Milverton...Twenty-three year old Sophia Wentworth lives a quiet life in the small country town of Milverton.
