Von Kevin Hearne : Two Ravens and One Crow: An Iron Druid Chronicles Novella (The Iron Druid Chronicles) (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Two Ravens and One Crow: An Iron Druid Chronicles Novella (The Iron Druid Chronicles) (English Edition):

Kurzbeschreibung Atticus O'Sullivan is back in an action-packed, laugh-out-loud novella from the author of The Iron Druid Chronicles. Two-thousand-year-old Atticus may have outwitted and outfought everyone from Odin to Bacchus, but hes about to discover that what comes around when you go around messing with gods. Six years into the training of his beautiful apprentice, Granuaile, a large crow swoops down and transforms into none other than the Morrigan, a goddess who insists that Atticus come with her at once. He must leave his apprentice behind, along with his Irish wolfhound, Oberon and he must also leave his sword. The Morrigan has always taken extreme pleasure in pronouncing the Druids mortal danger and imminent doom, so the fact that she wont reveal the purpose of their journey makes him very nervous. Of course, any time the Celtic Chooser of the Slain drops in unannounced, its never good. When she does let slip that shell be saving his life in the near future, Atticus is left to wonder . . . will he soon be giving his legions of enemies something to crow about? Includes an excerpt from Kevin Hearnes Iron Druid Chronicles novel Trapped! Praise for Kevin Hearne and The Iron Druid Chronicles Celtic mythology and an ancient Druid with modern attitude mix it up in the Arizona desert in this witty new fantasy series. Kelly Meding, author of Three Days to Dead [Atticus is] a strong modern hero with a long history and the wit to survive in the twenty-first century. . . . A snappy narrative voice . . . a savvy urban fantasy adventure. Library Journal, on Hounded Kurzbeschreibung Atticus O'Sullivan is back in an action-packed, laugh-out-loud novella from the author of The Iron Druid Chronicles. He graduated from Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff and now teaches high school English. When he's not grading essays or writing novels, he tends to his basil plants and paints landscapes with his daughter. He has been known to obsess over fonts, frolic unreservedly with dogs, and stop whatever he's doing in the rare event of rain to commune with the precipitation. He enjoys hiking, the guilty pleasure of comic books and living with his wife and daughter in a wee, snug cottage.
